Faced with global challenges, we act in a global manner with a team that is deeply committed to the project.

Managing Director CORVUS Off-Road Vehicles

A LETTER FROM THE MANAGING DIRECTOR

When CORVUS Off-Road Vehicles was launched five years ago, we were certain about one thing, and we had one goal in mind. What we were quite certain about was the fact that design excellence and technological innovation were going to transform the UTV industry in a more revolutionary way than in any other industry.

Based on that conviction, our goal was to work to design more dynamic and efficient means of mobility - we were and are determined to offer the best possible product on the market. After years of hard work, we can say that our prediction has been far outstripped by reality: our side-by-side vehicle is on sale in more than 35 countries and is being used in all manner of professional fields such as agriculture, livestock, mining and industry, among others. It has enhanced the world of work by offering professionals an agile, robust, versatile and dynamic vehicle that adapts to all needs.

Creativity coupled with technology and, of course, the honest way in which we understand sustainable business growth are unique values to which we have been committed from day one, values in which the focus is always on the well-being of our human capital. Faced with global challenges, we act in a global manner with a team that is deeply committed to the project.

Our experience throughout all this time of intense work tells us that the initial commitment we made is becoming more and more justified: research into the design and development of better products is the most important lever there is for people's autonomy. Because today, more than ever before, employability and sustainability go hand in hand.

The future is full of challenges: we are deeply engaged in digital transformation projects applied to the manufacture of new and increasingly efficient and sustainable UTV models; we are investing in ways to improve our production process; we have also launched initiatives to improve employability and retain talent, and we are implementing new equality and family and work-life balance measures.

This is where the challenge lies, and we are going to meet it in a situation of exceptional growth in which the company is ready to offer UTV models adapted to each and every one of the needs of our existing and new customers. It is time to look to the future and to draw on our experience; it is time to fully appreciate all the unique qualities of a team of professionals who over the years have driven the project forward to this level of international growth at which we now find ourselves.

In short, we are a company that strives for excellence, both in terms of technology and people; not only do we aspire to be the best, but we also aspire to achieve our goal together. That is why this letter is both a declaration of pride in a job that has been carried out with enthusiasm and courage, and a renewal of the commitment that we made at the outset. We are convinced that in this new era that is just beginning, a company like CORVUS Off-Road Vehicles is going to be even more necessary than before.

OURS IS A UNIQUE PROJECT

CORVUS was born out of the confidence of a number of investors in the industrial sector and the automobile world, whose unanimous decision was to manufacture a UTV that would lead the market, characterised by the quality and reliability for which European products are renowned.

As a European manufacturer of UTVs, we have a production centre of more than 25,000 m² in Murcia which is where we manufacture and assemble our off-road vehicles. We also have an R&D centre in Barcelona where an expert team of engineers works on the design, development and continuous improvement of the product.

Based on what is an efficient, sustainable and responsible business model, the only way we are going to be able to grow even more is by working with professionals who are passionate about the automobile world and who are part of this project which knows no geographical limits. Although CORVUS only opened in Murcia in 2017, we are now exporting worldwide and are present in more than 35 countries. Faced with global challenges, we act in a global manner, but we cater in a customised way to the specific needs of each professional in the different economic areas in which our vehicles are used: forestry, livestock, agriculture, mining, and logistics, among others.

Convinced that the best thing to do is to do what we do best, we have focused our activity on three major areas: sustainability, design and quality; always with the common denominator of constant technological transformation.

Because never have the goals that inspired this project been more fully justified than now: to use our technology to make it possible to work on any type of terrain.

VALUES

We are committed to the values that have determined our identity and that permeate each and every one of the professionals who make this project possible:

DETERMINATION, CHARACTER AND PASSION.

As well as the continuous search for EXCELLENCE AND SUSTAINABILITY.

Values that we want to convey to our clients in their day-to-day work.

MISSION

- Our vehicles are designed and produced by professionals who genuinely enjoy what they do and whose goal is to deliver the best possible UTV driving experience.
- To inspire our consumers with a sense of exceptional value, quality and performance.
